OUR MESSAGE TO YOU

ASC President Aspirant

Every student that works through the gates of Ashesi comes with a dream. Selected from a vast pool of suitable candidates, they feel invincible and ready for the next defining moments of their lives. The school is big enough for all types of people. The student entrepreneurs who find creative ways to make money by identifying a gap in contextual setup, the mechatronics engineering team that hopes to develop Africa's next biggest automation plan, the painter whose canvas is a gateway to their soul, the student politician who actively represents concerns and leads his or her tiny community, the lives of whatever party Ashesi throws, the international student pridefully representing his homeland and living the Pan african dream Many many people, hoping to find their place in such a prestigious institution

However the unfortunate reality of the system sets in. months deep, 11 59s keep piling and multiple class whatsapp groupchats keep buzzing with 'guys when are we meeting for our presentation prep'. Then a course that seems to be smooth sailing for everyone else, questions your intelligence and abilities, with a few points left to fail. And yes, you eventually fail and have to retake it, self confidence low as your quiz scores. You need to study, you need to lock in so you drop your paint canvas. That can wait. You stop posting on your business page. Who has time to be entrepreneurial when you're failing and failing. No more visits to the music studio to create melodies that resonated with your heart and soul to share to the student body
The dream freezes up

That's where we come in

Ashesi is stressful, and that's why we are here. We've spent semesters in the system, studying and participating in all aspects of students' lives. From parliament, to resident assistancy, to UBORA planning, to volleyball practice, while ultimately being students. We rise up to the occasion and take the baton of leadership . As student council president and vice, we bring the HEAT to melt the dark icy clouds of stress and anxiety many Ashesi students go through. The plain and simple of our tenure is to restore students morale and be a supportive council that prioritises every single Ashesi student. Admittedly, we can't change the system. The workload which is the major contributor to our issues as students is only going to get worse over time.
But we promise innovative ways to beat the system, and ensure that students don't lose themselves to the rigor of the school.

OUR MESSAGE TO YOU

ASC President Aspirant

We will lead a student council that believes it is possible for every student, with every unique opportunity and every unique experience deserves to be recognised and better. Bringing life and energy to every member of the society with solutions adequately suited to students needs. This is the time for recovery and recuperation from a system that seems to dim people's shines, wear them out and open up room for the ideal university experience while simultaneously ensuring the rigor and quality Ashesi promises is upheld. We are not turning campus into grownish, that's a long way to go. But we are promising a tenure that creates convenience for students, and showcases clear improvements of campus culture, moods and stress levels. One where students do not inwardly feel like zombies and mummies, but lively, energised people, confident and comfortable in their own skin.

Ashesi is all the way on the mountain. Secluded from the rest of the nation. Although it provides the perfect environment for concentrated vision attainment and focus, it also fosters feelings of detachment, loneliness and isolation. We cannot move Ashesi physically, but we can shift the culture. Under our leadership, and the leadership of every member of this community we can heal and innovate, recover and run. Oftentime, we feel as though every decision of our academic life is thrown at us, with limited consultation. But we promise student involvement and initiative. Our government will prioritise amplifying students' voices, and representing them in a way that goes unnoticed. Until your passions are explored, your physical health and mental health are taken care of and

We will keep fighting

We are not throwing away our shot.
Here and now we promise to be the supporting body that acts. Every Ashesi student deserves a chance to live, gain a world-class education and lose him or herself . We recognise the times we are at. Double intake system, ASC's lack of finances, low student morale, uncertainty. Giving our lives, time and intellect for this cause will be an honor. Giving us this platform is the starting point to getting heard. It's the first step towards the future you want. The Ashesi you envision.

Our legacy will be seeds in a planted in a garden we actually get to see (Hamilton)

Vote for change. Vote for voice. Vote for relief.
